

FAIRFIELD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Anniversary Celebration – July 3, 1932

The Rev. Clinton Cook was called to Fairfield church in 1929 when attendance and interest in the life of the church was at a low ebb. Pastor Cook stimulated the congregation to a renewed interest in the church by reminding them of the church's illustrious history.

During his 12 year tenure (1929-1941), Mr. Cook exerted great effort to organize annual anniversary celebrations. Soliciting advertisers and compiling articles, many summarizing Fairfield Church history, he published commemorative brochures for each year's anniversary celebration at the Old Stone Church.

For the anniversary of 1932, Charles W. Boss took a series of photographs that were mounted and framed; the photo montage is on display in the current church foyer. The photos have been scanned and pasted below.

L to R. Thomas Reed, Charles H. Livingston, Rev. Cook, Justus H. Livingston, Levi Robbins

Looking from the balcony window to Main Street,
Pastor Cook pointing, standing next to Justus Livingston (hat in hand).

Ushers Reed & Robbins collect the offering,
Rev cook, center, stands with the speaker Rev. Charles Cureton

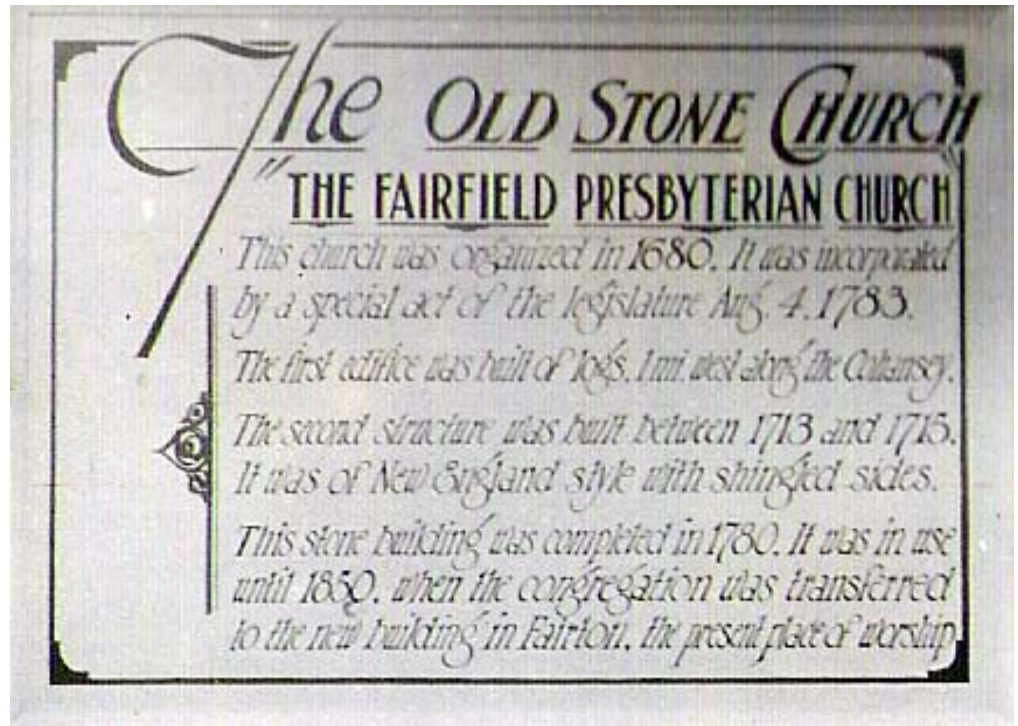

The view from the lot across the street from the Old Stone Church

Thomas Reed and Levi Robbins in front of a commemorative sign

An enlargement of the sign, summarizing the organizing, incorporation, and construction of the church's four meeting places.

Ushers Thomas Reed and Levi Robbins reviewing the service program.